Lockheed Martin Wins California's Top Honor for its Recycling Efforts

WM congratulates Lockheed Martin for its outstanding achievement in reducing waste.

For more than 30 years, Waste Management has provided Lockheed Martin with trash and recycling services, helping Lockheed Martin reduce waste and increase recycling. In 2003 alone, Lockheed Martin diverted more than 1,397 tons of materials from local landfills.

Lockheed Martin's efforts recently earned them the 2004 Waste Reduction Awards Program 'WRAP of the Year' honor from the California Integrated Waste Management Board.

We encourage businesses across California to follow in Lockheed Martin's footsteps and become part of the solution by reducing, reusing and recycling.

Reducing waste is not only good for the Earth; it does wonders for your company's bottom line. By reducing waste, Lockheed Martin saved over $350,000 in disposal costs.
